

Speaker Profile

Tim Ho, a Certified ESG Planner®, brings over 15 years of post-EMBA experience in Asia-Pacific roles at technology-driven conglomerates. He earned an Executive MBA from The Chinese University of Hong Kong (2005), a Postgraduate Certificate in International Economic Law from City University of Hong Kong (2012), a Diploma in Marketing (2001), and a Bachelor of Science in Manufacturing Engineering Technology from Oregon Institute of Technology (1991). His versatile career spans chemicals, adhesives, electro-mechanical products, soldering technologies, and electronics manufacturing services, showcasing adaptability and innovation.

At i2Cool Limited, Tim spearheads new projects to expand sustainable solutions in overseas markets. Previously, at Amphenol Commercial Products Group (2006–2024), as Asia Business Development Manager, he managed a multi-million-dollar portfolio, penetrated new markets in China and ASEAN countries, and enhanced customer portfolios through digital platforms. At Alpha Metals (2000–2005), he launched lead-free technology initiatives and led organizational re-engineering efforts. At Henkel Loctite Asia Pacific Headquarters (1997–2000), he introduced microelectronics-grade adhesives and silicone sealants, targeting new market segments via research and a cross-territorial committee.

Part-time, Tim serves as an ESG Initiatives Associate at HRCA, a charity organization in Hong Kong, enhancing partners' social impacts. He also mentored MBA students (2017–2018). Reference: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/tim-ho-hongkong/>.
